The Royal Photographic Society

Digital Imaging Group

This edition of DIGIT is devoted to publishing the photographs selected for our Annual Exhibition by the panel of judges. All members are entitled to submit up to three photographs, one of which is guaranteed to be selected. The resulting collection is displayed at a number of venues around the United Kingdom, as well being made available on the Group's website — www.digit.org.uk/. There are 129 photographs in this year's exhibition and, as always, we are keen to give the widest possible opportunity for members and non-members to view them.

A selection from the 2003 Exhibition will be on display at Siouville-Hague in Normandy during late July. A further selection of high quality pictures that were submitted, but not selected, for the 2004 Annual Exhibition, will be displayed in Cherbourg during October/November.

If you know of a venue that would be able to display the Exhibition, would you please contact John Long with details. Full details of all the currently arranged venues can be found on the website

The DIGIT SPECTACULAR will be held at Benn Hall, Rugby on Sunday 14th November 2004. The speakers will be Ian Bateman and Steve Caplan. Booking details are included on a separate sheet.

DIGIT—The magazine

We aim to please, goes the old saying.....but we can't do it all on our own. We have a constant need for articles and photographs. Please help us by making suggestions and offers of articles and/or photographs. Now is the time when many people are taking holidays. Have you taken pictures of which you are particularly proud? Then please get them published here—just contact the editor by email, or telephone 0033 233 04 85 57. Full details and any help required are readily available
